To whom it may concern,

I am writing to you in regards to the (specific position title listed) position. I am sure you will find my work experience to be a great fit for the position. I am seeking the job because I want to expand upon my experience about the complexities and the rewards of digital marketing.

During the last five years, I have been in a series of new positions ranging from a project manager at an Animation/Marketing company called Austin Visuals to the Head of Marketing for a startup company called JustDiidz. The companies I worked for allowed me to learn and grow in several different positions and taught me how to work with and for other people. They have taught me skills such as successful email marketing campaigns, social media scheduling, and B2C marketing. I have experience with CRM and management while also being a published cartoonist. If you were to ask my former employers about my performance, they would mention my ability to give my full attention to whatever task needs done.

In conclusion, I am a driven worker and would love to have my application considered for becoming a part of your team. I am available anytime through email.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Sydney Frank
